Agnew Expected To Turn Over Financial Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has hinted that Agnew will turn over to federal prosecutors the financial and tax records they seek in an investigation of political corruption in Maryland.

"I would not find it surprising if it develops that the lawyers are proceeding in that manner," J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press secretary, said Monday night. He said Agnew intends to "provide everything which is pertinent at the appropriate time."

Judah Best, one of Agnew's lawyers, refused to comment beyond saying a decision would be reached this week on whether to release the documents to U.S. Atty. George Beall in Baltimore. Beall had asked Agnew to turn over the records by 2 p.m. Thursday of last week.

The records sought by Beall date back to the beginning of Agnew's two-year term as governor of Maryland in 1967.

Agnew disclosed last week that he is under investigation by a federal grand jury for possible violation of tax, bribery, extortion and conspiracy laws. Never before has any president or vice president been involved in a criminal investigation while in office. Agnew said the charges against him were "damned lies."

It was reported Monday that at least four Baltimore County contractors have told federal prosecutors that they made cash payments to Agnew in hopes of getting favored treatment in the awarding of government consulting contracts.

Two of the four, said to be bargaining for immunity from prosecution, were identified by sources as Lester Matz, a partner in the Baltimore consulting engineering firm of Matz, Childs and Associates, and Jerome B. Wolff, president of Greiner Environmental Systems, Inc. The two other contractors were not identified.

In another development, it was learned Monday that the U.S. District Court judge who impaneled the federal grand jury conducting the probe once served as the vice president's chief of staff.

Judge C. Stanley Blair impaneled the grand jury last winter and assigned it to investigate political corruption in Baltimore County. There was no indication at the time that Agnew would become involved. Not until recent weeks had the probe focused on Agnew.

Sources close to the investigation said another judge could receive any indictments from the grand jury and that Blair would not necessarily try the case.

The judge served as Maryland secretary of state during Agnew's term as governor and later as the vice president's chief of staff during the first two years of the Nixon administration.

Girl Brutally Beaten, Raped Hitchhiking Across Indiana

PLAINFIELD, Ind. (AP) — "It looks like they tried to beat her to death," says Police Chief Lee E. Miller, describing a teenage hitchhiker who was beaten and raped. "All her teeth are gone, most of her gums have been beaten out, and part of her jawbone is missing."

The 18-year-old East Providence, R.I., girl, Patricia McDevitt, remained in serious condition today at Marion County General Hospital.

The girl was kidnaped late Sunday night by two men and a woman as she and a companion hitchhiked on the west side of Indianapolis, police said. She had been beaten and raped and was found nude Monday afternoon at the edge of a cornfield, 20 miles west of here, police said.

"Evidently she put up one hell of a fight, or else they took special delight in torture-beating her," Miller said. "Her face is so badly beaten she won't be able to talk for quite a few days."

Her companion, Stephen Baker, 17, Grand Ledge, Mich., told police he and the girl were driven to the south side of Plainfield, about 10 miles west of Indianapolis, where one of the men pulled a gun and asked for Baker's money.

He said his hands were tied and he was beaten with a long-barreled pistol before the assailants drove away with the girl.

At the hospital Monday, police said the girl wrote out her name and the names and address of her parents. The parents were expected to arrive in Indianapolis today.

Baker required 24 stitches in the head. He had two teeth knocked out and one eye was swollen shut.

Cambodians On Their Own After Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last U.S. bomb will fall on Cambodia by midnight (EDT) tonight, ending history's longest air war that saw Indochina blasted with a record 7.4 million tons of explosives.

The extra six and a half months of bombing in Cambodia after the Vietnam ceasefire has added to doubts about the ability of air power to force political settlements in wars of this kind.

Despite the backing of more than 430 U.S. bombers and fighter bombers, Cambodia's army of about 190,000 men was squeezed into enclaves by a Communist-led insurgent force about one-fourth its size. As the U.S. bombing drew to a close, the insurgents held about 80 per cent of Cambodia's territory.

Pentagon officials said no one can forecast with any confidence what will happen after the American warplanes halt their bombing runs. The Cambodian military has only 50 small fighter bombers.

The Nixon administration took the position that U.S. bombing support of the Cambodian army was needed to bring about a cease-fire there and North Vietnamese compliance with sections of the Paris agreement requiring Hanoi to pull its troops out of Cambodia.

But there is no Cambodian cease-fire and no real prospect of one. U.S. intelligence estimates the North Vietnamese have about 30,000 soldiers in Cambodia, most of them in a position to threaten South Vietnam.

The prolonged air strike in Cambodia, and for a limited time in Laos after the Vietnam peace agreement was signed in January, added to the heavy cost borne by the United States in waging the air war, which dates back to 1965.

Kennedy Son, 5 Girls Hurt In Auto Crash

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — Two sons of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy escaped serious injury when the open car driven by one of them overturned on a winding and hilly highway. One of the five girls riding with them was seriously hurt.

David A. Kennedy, 18, suffered a possible sprained back when the car driven by his brother Joseph P. Kennedy III, 20, flipped over Monday afternoon on Nantucket Island. Nantucket police said Joseph Kennedy was issued a citation for operating a motor vehicle negligently.

David was reported in satisfactory condition at Cape Cod Hospital here. Joseph was not hurt.

A spokesman for the hospital said one of the five girls was in serious condition with a possible spine fracture. She was identified as Pamela Kelly, 19, of Centerville, Mass.

Mary Schlaff, 23, of Grosse Point, Mich., was hospitalized with a fractured pelvis and right leg. She was listed in good condition.

Torbin Yates, director of communications for the hospital, said David was visited Monday night by his mother, Ethel, and other relatives from the Kennedys' Hyannisport compound.

Yates said the youth had no fractures. It was not known how long he would remain at the hospital.

Police said the car, a Toyota, overturned on Polpis Road. The young people were thrown about 20 feet.

A spokesman for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the boys' uncle, said the senator would have no comment on the accident.

have been added to the roster of about 2,100 pilots and air crewmen who earlier lost their lives. Four Americans are missing in action, joining about 1,260 other U.S. fighting men whose fate is still not known.

The U.S. Air Force lost 10 aircraft worth about $31.4 million, on top of the nearly 3,700 planes either shot down or crashed between 1965 and the signing of the Vietnam peace pact.

The Pentagon estimates the six-and-a-half-month phase of the air war in Cambodia and Laos cost the taxpayer about $442.8 million.

Nixon Watergate Talk Nearly Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a hideaway office surrounded by mementos of his quarter century in public life, President Nixon is putting the final touches on what could be the most important speech he's ever made.

It will be about Watergate, the scandal that has shaken his administration.

It will be made this week, probably Wednesday or Thursday, on national television.

What will the President say?

Not many people know. Nixon consulted only a half dozen or so of his closest aides and advisers during a five-day Camp David stay that ended Sunday, and only a few on Monday as he worked in his executive office building suite.

Presidential spokesmen will not say when the speech will be made, much less what it will contain. "The President hasn't finished it yet," one spokesman said.

But the indications, hints, and nuances drifting through White House and political circles point toward an address including these major elements:

—A denial by the President that he was aware of plans to bug the Democratic National Committee, or that he was aware of or participated in the subsequent cover-up. This will be coupled with a condemnation of such acts.

—An admission that he did not pay enough personal attention to allegations that White House and re-election committee officials were involved in the scandal, and acknowledgement that what he thought was a thorough investigation by his subordinates really wasn't.

—A recitation of his first term accomplishments and an assertion that he will not allow Watergate to deter him from his second-term goals of lasting peace abroad and an end to inflation at home.

—An urgent plea for the American people to rekindle their confidence in their government and join him in overcoming the impact of the scandal.

Nixon is expected to stress what aides call the "big picture" in a philosophically-toned television address, leaving a point-by-point rebuttal of Watergate allegations to a written document also due for release this week.

Apparently still to be decided are whether Nixon will point a specific finger of blame at those he believes are responsible for Watergate and its cover-up, and whether he will lash out at those investigating the scandal.

Energy Conservation Importance Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy conservation was described today as apparently the most promising approach to solving environmental problems related to energy use.

The Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) reached that conclusion, and several others, in a preliminary analysis designed to show how the environmental impact of various energy-producing systems can be traced and estimated.

The report concentrated on present fuel sources—coal, oil, gas and nuclear—and on those future sources that seem closest to reality, such as oil shale, coal gasification and the nuclear breeder reactor.

On a tentative basis, the CEQ concluded, "this report has significant implications for several aspects of a national energy policy."

"First... energy conservation, to the extent feasible, is the most environmentally desirable way to meet our needs.

"Second, coal-fired electricity systems, which are shown to cause significantly more pollution than other fossil-fueled systems, could be controlled to a high level without impairing their economic viability."

The council said pollution control would increase the cost of coal-generated electricity to the consumer by about 12 per cent.

"...third, natural gas was shown to be a very clean source of energy However, it is in short supply," the council said.

No specific proposals were offered, but the report ended with a plug for the administration's legislative proposals to consolidate energy programs in a new Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

The council consists of three members and a small staff, attached to the White House to advise the President.

Indictments Sought In Slayings Of 27 Teens

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities sought indictments today against two tough-haired teenagers charged in the largest mass murder in the nation's history.

The recovery of four additional bodies Monday at a beach on the Gulf Coast brought to 27 the number of victims found since last Wednesday. Digging for more bodies has stopped for now.

"We have recovered what they said was there. We're through," Capt. G. W. Woods of the Jefferson County sheriff's office said Monday night. Digging also stopped in Galveston and Chambers counties, all of which converge at the High Island coastal area where the last excavations were made.

In Houston, a reliable source confirmed that the Harris County district attorney's office plans to ask a grand jury today to indict Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, and David O. Brooks, 18, for murder.

Brooks, Henley and Dean Allen Corll, 33, who Henley said he shot to death last Wednesday, allegedly were involved in a homosexual torture-murder ring.

Brooks and Henley are being held by police under $100,000 bonds. Henley has been charged with two slayings in Houston and three in San Augustine County and has told police he took part in nine killings. Brooks was charged with one murder in Houston but has said he did not kill anyone.

Henley appeared briefly in court Monday. Charles Melder, Henley's lawyer, asked state District Court Judge George Walker to order a psychiatric examination for his client.

Earlier, Melder said he plans to plead that Henley is not guilty by reason of insanity.

In a news conference Monday, Houston Police Chief Herman Short answered charges that his department had been lax in not discovering the series of murders of teen-agers that stretched over a three-year period.

The criticism has come from some parents of missing teenaged boys. Many of the youths believed slain come from one neighborhood and were acquainted with Henley. The critical parents say police should have seen the connection.

Warplanes Hit Reds Last Time

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — American B52s and fighter-bombers hammered at Cambodian insurgents all around Phnom Penh today on the final day of U.S. air attacks in Indochina.

Taking advantage of a break in the monsoon overcast, American F111s, F4 Phantoms and A7 Corsairs flew round-the-clock missions to unload a maximum bomb tonnage.

U.S. air combat operations are scheduled to end at 11 a.m. Wednesday, or midnight EDT. It will be the first time since 1964 that the U.S. Air Force isn't bombing somewhere in Indochina.

American pilots concentrated their attack today south and west of Phnom Penh, the directions from which the Cambodian command believes the Communist-led insurgents of the Khmer Rouge will attack the city when U.S. air support of the government is ended.

The Khmer Rouge have pulled back on the southern front, presumably to re-equip and regroup for a new stage of their campaign to knock out President Lon Nol's government.

Government forces have cleared Route 38, which runs around Phnom Penh's southern defense perimeter six to 11 miles from the city.

But a new threat was shaping up in the west, with insurgent troops encircling the village of Tuol Leap 11 miles from Phnom Penh and seven miles from the capital's airport.

Weather

Cloudy today with showers and thundershowers. High low 80s. Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Low in lower 60s. High Wednesday near 80. Possibility of rain, 90 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow.

Price Hikes Further Pinch Pocketbooks

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The pocketbook pinch worsened during the first two weeks of August as the nation prepared for further price hikes with Monday's debut of Phase 4, an Associated Press marketbasket shows.

The AP has been keeping tabs on 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities across the country since March 1, rechecking the prices at the beginning of each month with special surveys in between.

A check made Monday showed fresh price rises on top of already-healthy increases that turned up earlier.

The AP surveyed the prices in 12 cities Monday. The prices in Providence, R.I., normally the 13th city in the marketbasket, were unavailable because stores were closed due to a state holiday in honor of VJ Day.

The survey showed that, from July 31 to Aug. 13, 22 per cent of the 180 items checked in the 12 cities went up in price; 8 per cent went down in price; 57 per cent were unchanged; and 13 per cent were not available on one of the two check dates.

An earlier check showed that 17 per cent of the items in the 12 cities went up in price between July 23 and July 31. Six per cent went down during that period; 65 per cent were unchanged; and 12 per cent were unavailable.

The results sounded like a broken record: eggs and pork chops led the list of higher-price items again.

Food prices, except for beef, have been rising ever since President Nixon announced in July that processors and sellers could pass on increases in raw agricultural products. Beef prices are frozen until Sept. 12, despite meat industry efforts to get the ceiling lifted.

Further price increases—to reflect additional increased costs—will be allowed under Phase 4 on food and nonfood items. Large manufacturers must give 30 days' notice of their intention to raise prices, while smaller companies can up the bill immediately.

The total marketbasket bill in the AP survey was up in nine of the 12 cities checked. Most of the decreases were due to special sales on one particular item, rather than general declines.

Eggs went up in price in 10 of 12 cities in the period from July 23 to July 31 and were unavailable in the other two. They rose still further in 8 of the 10 cities in the period between July 31 and Aug. 13. They stayed the same in one city, went down in one—Salt Lake City—and were unavailable in two.

The price increases between July 31 and Aug. 13 ranged from 4 per cent in Philadelphia, where eggs went from 99 cents to $1.03 a dozen, to 28 per cent in Los Angeles, where they went from 69 to 88 cents a dozen. Eggs already had gone up 25 per cent—from 79 to 99 cents—in Philadelphia between July 23 and July 31, and they rose 11 per cent in Los Angeles during the last week of July.

The price of a pound of center cut pork chops went up in 7 of 12 cities checked during the last week of July. Pork chops stayed the same in four cities and were unavailable in one.

In the first two weeks of August, pork chops went up again in all of the seven cities where they rose earlier, went up in two of the cities where the price had remained stable, dropped in two and were unavailable in one.

Increases in the price of pork chops between July 31 and Aug. 13 ranged from 3 per cent in Atlanta, where they went from $1.85 to $1.91 after remaining steady earlier, to 10 per cent in Philadelphia, where the price per pound went from $2.05 to $2.25.

Beef prices remained fairly steady, as did those on nonfood items. There were scattered instances of hikes in the price of frankfurters, however, and more and more shoppers found stores were out of beef.

The cities used for the AP survey are: Albuquerque, N.M.; Atlanta; Boston; Chicago; Dallas; Detroit; Los Angeles; Miami; New York; Philadelphia; Salt Lake City; and Seattle. The items in the survey are: chopped chuck, pork chops, orange juice, coffee, paper towels, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, cookies, all-beef frankfurters, milk and sugar.

The marketbasket was up everywhere except Boston, Albuquerque and Miami. Increases ranged from about one per cent in Chicago to four per cent in Philadelphia.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to wallow in the doldrums today, bogged down by higher interest rates and uneasiness over Phase 4.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.43 to 881.77 at noon. Declines held almost a 7-4 lead over advances in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was off .05 to 55.18 at noon.

On the American Stock Exchange, losers also held abroad lead over gainers and the pricechange index had dipped .03 to 23.04 at noon.

Tenneco, the Big Board volume leader, lost 1/2 to 20%. Phelps Dodge, reflecting increased demand for copper, rose 3/4 to 47 1/4.

Gold mining stocks were lower, reflecting the steep drop in the metal's price on European markets. ASA Ltd. fell 1 3/8 to 38 1/2.

Renovation Is Reality With Project Friendship

By BOB BENSONHAVER
Herald Staff Writer

Renovation of the Hedges House, Pickaway County's Group Home for teenage boys has become a reality.

From Aug. 6 to 17 volunteers from the 302nd "Buckeye Wing" 907th Tactical Airlift Group of the Air Force Reserve has been working on the home.

Barbara O'Shaughnessy of the Circleville Junior Women's Club contacted the 907th Information Office in April to see if the group would possibly undertake the renovation project.

Major Bob Somogyi, 907th Information Office and Colonel Bruce Cotton, 907th Combat Support Squadron Commander visited the home in July to check the project's feasibility.

Recommending the project to Colonel Bernard Cecil, 907th Group Commander, renovation would begin during the Groups two-week summer encampment at Lockbourne in August.

First Lieutenant Jerald Hehn, 907th Transportation Section, was named the project officer to organize the volunteer force, schedule the work and supervise its completion. He was assisted by M-Sgt. John Smith.

An average of ten men a day from the Transportation Section of the 907th Combat Support Squadron have come to the home to work on the project called "Project Friendship". Painting walls, rewiring, plumbing and even fixing the doorbell were some of the tasks the group performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hickman, resident parents, states that contributions for the renovation were presented to the home by, Cellar Lumber Co., G.E. Leist Contractors, Lowe's, George Ramey Contractors, Standard "T" Chemicals and George S. Boudreau.

Hedges House is not the same. With one week's work completed the house looks brighter, cleaner and presents the image of a home.

Circleville Mayor Frank Barnhill visited the home Aug. 10 to present the 907th Group commander Col. Cecil, Col. Cotton and project volunteers a proclamation making them honorary citizens of Circleville in honor of their work and support of Project Friendship.

Highway Crash Injures Four

Four persons were injured and treated at Berger Hospital following a two car collision on Route 23 near Huston St.

Highway Patrolman R. P. Burkhardt reports a car operated by John Garnhan, 72, of Webster, N. Y., was pulled to the side of the road and parked partially on the northbound lane when it was struck in the rear by a second auto, driven by Asa C. Robison, 72, of 53 McCullough Ave.

Robison had three teeth knocked out, a bruised knee and cuts on his right hand as a result of the collision. He and three passengers in Garnhan's auto were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

The other passengers were Cora Garnhan, 69, of Webster, N. Y., Hulda Maggio, 71, of Rochester, N.Y. and Jean Bingham, 50, Worthington. All complained of whiplash injuries and backaches.

Ptl. Burkhardt still has the accident under investigation.

Wheat Exporter Faces Charges Filed By CEA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commodity Exchange Authority (CEA) has filed its second formal complaint against a grain exporter involved in last year's massive wheat sale to Russia.

The authority announced Monday it has charged the Louis Dreyfus Corp. of New York with willfully understating its wheat holdings during July-October 1972.

Dreyfus shipped about 18 per cent of the 440 million bushels of U.S. wheat exported to the Soviet Union in 1972-73. The controversial grain sales by private firms were made under a U.S.-Soviet agreement signed July 8, 1972.

The CEA is investigating all firms that sold wheat to Russia. Its latest complaint, however, did not specifically draw a link between Dreyfus' alleged understating of holdings and the Russian deal.

Various investigations of the wheat sales have produced allegations that firms dealt secretly in cash with Russian buyers before the pact was signed, falsified their records to keep their positions hidden from competitors and manipulated commodities futures markets.

The authority had previously charged Continental Grain Co. Inc., which shipped more than half the 440 million bushels, with willfully filing inaccurate, incomplete statements on its transactions during roughly the same July-October period.

Ehrlichman Says President Kept Him From Scandal Probe

SEATTLE (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman says he didn't know about the Watergate cover-up because President Nixon had ordered him to stay out of the whole affair.

"This was simply not my beat," Ehrlichman said at a news conference Monday. "I simply had no right to step in."

Ehrlichman gave up a lucrative Seattle zoning law practice to join the 1968 Nixon campaign and then rose to power in the White House until the Watergate scandal forced him to resign as chief domestic adviser to the President on April 30.

Now he is home. The Ehrlichmans are living in the house on the east side of Lake Washington they occupied before moving to Washington, D.C. The new owner is in Australia and is renting it to the Ehrlichmans.

Standing in his front yard just 30 feet from the water, a relaxed Ehrlichman entertained newsmen's questions for 45 minutes in what he said would be his last news conference or interview in the foreseeable future.

He told newsmen that, even in hindsight, he sees no way he should have spotted the developing scandal and headed it off. "He (Nixon) was continually taking me out of it," Ehrlichman said.

Ehrlichman, who spent five days before the Senate Watergate committee, called the Senate's hearings destructive to the country. The scandal's effect on the Nixon presidency, he predicted, would be short range. The effect on political parties and politics in general would be more long term however, Ehrlichman said.

He said the 1976 presidential election would be marked by "a super caution" in connection with campaign contributions.

Courthouse Hours Will Change Again

Office hours for the Pickaway County courthouse will change again in September.

The decision to partially abandon the late Friday evening hours was made at a meeting of the Elected Officials of Pickaway County Monday night.

In agreement to close on Saturdays, but in conflict on any other change in hours, the officials ruled in April to remain open until 8 p.m. on Friday evenings. After a trial period of three and one-half months under the new schedule, the elected officials decided the public was not taking advantage of the service offered after 6 p.m.

Accordingly, the group decided to arrange new hours and remain open on Wednesday afternoon. The courthouse will remain open through 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and Friday until 6 p.m. beginning September 3.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Photo's A Better Souvenir

DEAR ABBY: I am a maid in a first class hotel. Please don't mention the city.) I took something from a very famous person who stayed here. I have admired this person for years and only wanted a souvenir.

What I took may be valuable, and now my conscience is bothering me. I am not a common thief, but I'm not brave enough to confess, and now I don't know what to do. Please help me. I trust you.

TROUBLED MIND

DEAR TROUBLED: Go to your public library and look for that person's name and address in "Who's Who in America." If you find it, mail back whatever you took. If you can't find the name and address, write to me and I will find it for you. (You can trust me.) And if you ever again want a "souvenir" from a famous person, ask for an autographed picture.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a fairly large office. One of the girls who works here is being married soon, so a coworker suggested we girls give her a bridal shower. (The bride-to-be is 30 years old and has been married before. So has her fiance.)

The bride made up a list of "suggested shower gifts," which she mimeographed and distributed to all the girls in the office. This list is titled "CAN USE" and there are three pages of "gift suggestions" (typed, single-space indicated brand names preferred, and where-to-purchase.) (She listed everything imaginable from a cork-screw to a king-sized bedspread!!!)

She even submitted dimensions of her living room, dining room, bedroom and bath indicating rugs are needed."

When I saw this list I was turned off completely and decided not to attend. I declined the shower and told the girls why. Was I wrong?

SOURD IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR SOURD: No. Since you felt that the purpose of this shower was to "soak" the guests, I don't blame you.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a terrible experience. I invited the gas man into our mobile home for a cup of coffee. He had been filling our tank for about a year, and he seemed so nice.

I had just made a fresh pot of coffee and asked him if he wanted to join me for a cup. (My husband had left for work.)

When this man got inside he sat at the table and kept looking at me funny. I felt uncomfortable but kept talking and sipping coffee. Then he said he'd never seen a mobile home like mine before, so I offered to show him around. He kind of cornered me in the baby's room, but I managed to get out of that situation and back into the kitchen.

I kept praying someone would call me. Finally, I edged toward the door, and opened it, and told him I had a lot of work to do. He left reluctantly.

Abby, I am only 22. Am I naive? Was I wrong in inviting him in for coffee? Do most men who talk to housewives take this as an invitation for something else?

Was I being forward? I blame myself. I swear I only meant to be friendly.

FRIGHTENED

DEAR FRIGHTENED: Perhaps he mistook your friendliness for something more. Most men who deal with housewives are straight and strictly all business. But it's best to play it safe and keep your distance.

Women Get Chance At State Posts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan discriminates in appointing women to vacancies on numerous state boards and commissions. He wants them.

Former Gubernatorial aide Robert Cecile said, "One of the things the governor asked me to do was to look at each board and commission to find if they had women. If they didn't, my job was to find them."

When he checked the list of members for nearly 200 boards, he said, "In most cases I didn't find any."

Apaches Plan To Renew Damage Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Descendants of the Apache warrior Geronimo plan to renew their legal battle with the government to collect damages for an alleged atrocity which decimated their tribe around the turn of the century.

The Indian Claims Commission already has awarded members of the Chiricahua Apache tribe more than $16 million in return for the seizure of their ancestral lands in Arizona, New Mexico and Mexico.

But the Chiricahuas are demanding millions more, claiming they were imprisoned by the government under inhumane conditions for 27 years.

Government documents show the Chiricahuas, mostly old men, women and children, were transported to internment camps in Florida, Alabama and Oklahoma after being evicted from their homelands.

The Apaches originally filed suit against the government in 1949, asking for $7.5 million in damages—$14.3 million in today's dollars.

Lawyers for the government did not contest the facts, but in 1971 the Indian Claims Commission dismissed the suit on grounds it did not have jurisdiction over wrongs suffered by individuals—only those suffered by an entire tribe. The commission held it was "irrelevant that each and every member" of the tribe was imprisoned.

The ruling was upheld on appeal by the U.S. Court of Claims, but lawyers for the Apaches are preparing a second appeal and say they will take their case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

See No End To Natural Gas Freeze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — R. S. Ryan, a senior vice president of Columbia Gas of Ohio, has predicted that the company's freeze on new sales of natural gas will continue.

Ryan said it is unlikely that the sales restrictions the gas company has imposed on new customers will be lifted in the near future.

Columbia Gas restricted natural gas supplies to large volume industrial users last winter. The restrictions were lifted earlier than anticipated when the winter proved to be unusually warm. However, the company continued to limit new sales.

Ryan said company projections indicate gas will be available for residential and commercial customers this winter.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, in the meantime, was to begin hearings today on the priorities of fuel allocation in the event of natural gas shortages.

Priorities set in the past range from top ranking residential heating to large volume industry at the lowest rating. The hearings will permit companies to argue for or against the proposed priorities.

Now, the said, "I would have to say women are being given every consideration. There's no discrimination against them. In fact, they are given more consideration."

"The governor would be very pleased if his appointments worked out to a 50-50 spread between the sexes, but that would take more than two gubernatorial terms."

Since Gilligan first took office in January 1971, 109 women have been

Final Party For Woman Successful

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — The hostess wore rumpled white pajamas and didn't get up to greet her guests. But nobody at Ruth Hoffman's party seemed to mind.

Mrs. Hoffman, 57, held the party for more than 100 family members and friends Saturday in her room at Sequoia Hospital here.

She learned she had terminal bone cancer the day before Mother's Day and began planning the party a short time later.

"I want to see and talk with and touch them all I can," she said as the visitors streamed into her flower-laden room to sign a guest book, hug her and chat.

"We all have to die, and I wanted to have a party for my friends," she said. "I feel wonderful, I'm surrounded by the people I love."

Amid the quiet chatter and laughter, Mrs. Hoffman's face brightened as she held her 5-year-old grandson, Scott Gage, and softly sang, "Rock a bye, baby, in the treetop."

"She is the most amazing woman I ever met," said Jan Gregory, who shared the room with Mrs. Hoffman when she was hospitalized recently for back surgery. "Ruth insisted upon being wheeled up to the surgery section every day just to cheer me."

Mrs. Hoffman said her one concern was that doctors keep her alive until the party. "After that, I don't care. I'll be ready," she said.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given in compliance with Section 5715.17 Revised Code, that the tax returns of Pickaway County, for the year 1973, have been revised and the valuations completed and are open for public inspection at the office of the County Auditor in the Court House, Circleville, Ohio.

Complaints against any valuation or assessment, except the valuations fixed and assessments made by the Tax Commissioner of Ohio, will be heard by the County Board of Revision at its office in the Court House, Circleville, Ohio, on or after August 23, 1973.

Complaints must be made in writing on blanks furnished by the County Auditor and filed in her office on or before the time limited for payment of taxes for the first half year, or at any time during which taxes are received by the County Treasurer without penalty for the first half year.

See Gasoline Shutdowns This Month

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Greater Cincinnati Gasoline Dealers Association predicts "massive weekend shutdowns" of service stations because of the continuing gas price freeze.

Mike Kunnen, an independent dealer, said Saturday night the shutdowns will occur later this month because of the continuing price freeze on gasoline and beef.

The Cost of Living Council earlier announced the price freeze ends at midnight tonight on everything but beef and petroleum products.

The petroleum price freeze ends Aug. 19. But dealers must cut their profit margins back to the level of Jan. 10 but not less than seven cents a gallon.

"If they try to roll that price margin back to seven cents," said Kunnen, "there will be a massive protest."

"And it will be on a national basis."

He said most service station dealers must gross nine cents a gallon on gasoline to break even.

"There will be a massive weekend shutdown of gas stations some time in August," Kunnen said.

His organization includes dealers in southwest Ohio and northern Kentucky.

Set In-Depth Report On Traffic Crashes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Avco Broadcasting Corp. will begin in depth reporting of traffic accidents on one news program a week to demonstrate the need for safe driving.

Ohio Gov. John Gilligan praised the firm's move, saying it would meet the problem of highway accidents in a positive manner.

named to statutory boards and commissions and another 100 to task forces selected by the governor to examine particular areas of concern. Cecile said the percentage of female appointments during Gilligan's 2½ years was not available.

Many of the appointments are to non-salaried positions on commissions. The members receive only their expenses incurred while performing official duties.

However, some of the jobs are plums with handsome salaries and power. This year, Gilligan named Sally Bloomfield of Columbus to the three-member Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. The commission regulates all utility companies in the state and considers rate adjustments.

In the past month, he appointed Marguerite Neal of Columbus to the Ohio Industrial Commission, another three-member board. The board considers employee claims resulting from industrial accidents.

Their salaries are $25,168 and $17,100 a year, respectively.

Gilligan has also put women in influential positions. He named women to boards of trustees at Ohio State, Ohio, Miami, Kent State, Youngstown State and Central State universities. He also appointed a woman to the Ohio Board of Regents, which oversees all of Ohio's state-assisted colleges and technical schools.

To assist the governor in finding qualified women, the Women's Services Division of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services publishes a list of upcoming vacancies. The publication, Ohio Woman, asks interested women to file resumes with the division, which in turn gives the applications to Cecile.

Trade Advice Reversed

Ill winds blown from the United States dollar have buffeted the Japanese yen among other currencies, and the Japanese now have some advice for U.S. economists: exert stronger discipline over the American economy and go easy on export controls.

This was the advice handed the American delegation headed by Secretary of State Rogers at the annual U.S. — Japan economic conference.

Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira said the Japanese were particularly embarrassed by the controls imposed by the U.S. on soybeans, iron scrap and logs.

"In view of the predominant role and responsibility of the United States in the world economy," he said, "it is our strong wish that the United States would cope with and find solutions to these questions on the basis of the long-term perspective."

If this sentiment sounds familiar, it resembles the advice the American delegation was giving the Japanese in previous talks. The roles of the two economic powers may have been reversed by changing conditions, but the problem which affect trade and economic cooperation between them persist.

Cities And Symbols

When St. Louis completed its Gateway Arch, tallest monument in the nation at 630 feet, there was discussion whether other cities would engage in similar cultural enterprises.

Cities these days seldom build out and out monuments, structures that are supposed to be merely symbols without apparent utilitarian purpose. Mostly they construct public buildings or auditoriums or bridges or occasionally a fountain or a mall.

Surely American society has reached a new stage, when it is possible to erect an answer to the Eiffel Tower.

But the St. Louis arch serves a utilitarian purpose. It is a tourist attraction. People go to the Missouri metropolis just to see it.

Perhaps St. Louis' example will yet spur civic enterprise and interest in cultural matters in other cities. Many cities which have not neglected these attributes have found the material payoff rewarding.

Come Out Dick Nixon

By JEFFREY HART

If the account of the Nixon tapes given by H.R. Haldeman before the Ervin committee is accurate, the two important tapes Haldeman has listened to bear out the President's claim of innocence in the Watergate affair. Why then not release to the Ervin committee or some other body the relevant portions, close out the whole Watergate affair, and get on with the practical affairs of the nation?

The amazing answer being put about by White House aides is the Nixon's refusal to do this is not based primarily on the claim of Executive privilege or separation of powers, this being merely the avowed rationale. No, they say, even though the tapes do support Nixon's version they are being held back because, intertwined with talk pertinent to Watergate, are some "blunt" political judgments and "language" which Nixon believes would "damage the office of the Presidency."

People would be shocked and disillusioned, that is, if they heard Nixon say what he really thought about assorted politicians or if a series of earthy expressions passed his lips.

I don't know, some people might be shocked, but my own feeling is that that this would raise Nixon to new heights of popularity and gain Nixon an affection he has never been able to arouse.

Richard Nixon in his own way shares with Lyndon Johnson a peculiar characteristic. There exists a huge gap between the private and the public men. With a small group of people he knows, Nixon is direct, realistic, humorous, and often startlingly candid. He swears. He uses vivid imagery. He is frequently scatological.

In public an amazing transformation occurs. An oppressive respectability settles over the fellow. He becomes almost prim. He walks without swinging his arms. His speeches are full of stale protestations of virtue. He seems to think that everyone expects the President-as distinguished from Dick Nixon-to be some sort of civics book, a Sunday school paragon.

Of course, a gap usually does exist between a man's public and his private face. John F. Kennedy was not in reality the spartan idealist of the public presentation. He was rather indolent and in indifferent health, he was cynical, and as everyone knows he was lecherous. He was not very literary, despite all those quotations. When he was not preoccupied with some starlet, he liked to shoot the breeze with his old Navy buddies.

But in Nixon, the gap is extreme, and, in contrast to Kennedy, the public artifact is a liability. Kennedy put on a better act.

One of the few good things to come out of the mood of the 1960s was an impatience with pretense. The gap was narrowed between the real self and the social one. The "kids" have plenty of faults, but their impatience with humbug is not one of them, and I think it has spread elsewhere in the society.

If Nixon is heard to utter a few four-letter words, the Oval Office will not turn into a pumpkin, and he will not be run out of town. Instead, people will begin to think he's human. After all, one of things people liked about Harry Truman was his directness, his willingness to be himself. They did not hold it against him when he said what he thought or even when he told off that music critic in earthy terms. If the White House tapes reveal Nixon as he actually is and as his close associates see him to be on a daily basis, this will be one of the best things that has ever happened to him.

Small Cars Take Spotlight As Industry Moves Into 1974

DETROIT (AP) — Spurred by the gasoline shortage, small car sales are higher than ever and are expected to take the spotlight when the U.S. auto industry presents its 1974 models next month.

Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors all put heavy emphasis on their new offerings at the smaller, lower-priced end of the line.

The U.S. automakers sold 1,759,706 compact and subcompact cars in the first seven months of 1973, an increase of 436,333 over the same period last year. The small cars accounted for 29.3 per cent of U.S. domestic auto sales in the first seven months of this year, compared with 22.4 per cent in the same period of 1972.

Small foreign cars also are selling well. Volkswagen sold 296,934 cars in the first six months of this year, compared with 265,366 in the first half of 1972.

Mazda, the only car on the U.S. market with the Wankel rotary engine, has sold 73,055 cars so far this year, compared with 27,210 for the same period last year.

The increases have occurred despite the dollar devaluation that made imports more expensive. "The dollar devaluation didn't help, but the fuel crisis did," said a spokesman for Volvo, which reported sales of 34,122 cars in the first six months this year. That's almost 7,000 more than in the same period last year.

The U.S. automakers aren't ignoring the big cars—which George Romney, former president of AMC, once called "gasoline guzzling dinosaurs." But it appeared virtually certain that the hot spot in the 1974 auto sales race would be the small car field.

Entries such as AMC's new compact-sized Matador II coupe and Ford's rejuvenated Mustang line were typical of offerings in that category.

Pickaway county farmers were asked to go to various polling places in the county to cast their ballots as to whether they want wheat acreage allotments the year following.

Production and Marketing Administration officials here mailed out 2,609 letters to county farmers telling each farmer how much wheat he will be able to put out under the new program and where he may go to vote in the allotment poll.

Youngsters of the Pickaway County Home now had their own lighted softball field for after-dark activities.

The lights were installed on the Home field earlier in the summer and through the generosity of local businessmen were paid for in full for a week.

Francis L. Hoover, presiding officer of Circleville Chapter Order of DeMolay Advisory Council, announced the appointment of the men to fill the various offices as senior advisors.

Circleville was expected to have its first parochial school in 27 years. The catholic school offered the first eight grades for an anticipated enrollment of 80 youngsters throughout the Pickaway county. Sister Rose Bernadette of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Baden was to be principal of the new school here.

Find Morris Jail Site

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — University of Pennsylvania archeology students have uncovered the remains of an 18th Century jail where one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was once confined.

Robert Morris, known to every schoolboy as the "financier of the Revolution," spent time in the debtors' section of the old Walnut Street Jail.

The workshop of the old jail was uncovered in what is now the rear garden of the Philadelphia Athenaeum.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am 42 years old and am in good health except for one problem that bothers me.

It seems that almost every night I am suddenly awakened by a cramp in the calf of my leg that makes me scream out in pain.

I dread going to sleep. What can I do about it?

Mrs. M..., Tenn.

Dear Mrs. N.:

This is a common complaint that can be caused by any one of a variety of conditions.

Anyone who has experienced these sudden spasms of the muscles of the legs or the feet knows how distressing this can be. The spasm may last for only a few minutes, but the anxiety associated with it persists.

A sudden cramp simply means that, for some reason, there has been momentary interference with the normal blood supply to the muscle. Arteries bring blood and oxygen to the leg muscles. When the free flow is interfered with, spasm may occur.

In the elderly, arteriosclerosis is one of the major causes interfering with the normal rapid flow of blood.

Some people may develop a spasm of the legs if their bed sheets bind them down too tightly.

Varicose veins may exist without the usual blue mark evidenced on the skin surface. Deep-seated varicose veins may cause the spasms you describe.

A great many people will complain of muscular spasms and painful cramps while walking. A condition knows as Buerger's disease is associated with claudication, an arterial spasm that creates painful cramps of the muscles.

The very first thing you should do is to be examined and see if some underlying ailment is causing your vascular spasms.

Tobacco is a great offender, especially in Buerger's disease. The accumulated concentration of tars, toxins, and nicotine in tobacco plays an important role in these painful cramps.

If you do smoke, you should first try to eliminate tobacco.

There is an unfounded idea that when a cramp wakes you in the middle of the night you should pop out of bed, jump up and down, and slap the muscle as hard as you can. If you have tried this then you know that it only serves to accentuate the pain.

For a long time, quinine as an antispasmodic has been recommended. Apparently, for some people it is effective. If your doctor prescribes it, you may find it helpful.

Many people find that when a spasm occurs, there is a simple movement that can ease the pain.

Lie flat on your back. Forcefully bring your toes upward, pointing them toward your head. Strain to keep the toes in this position for at least a minute. The spasm will often disappear.

The application of moist, warm towels to the cramped muscle can be beneficial, too.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist wouldn't know if he didn't open his mail:

If you bought a 1,000-pound steer on the hoof, less than half of it would wind up on your dinner plate. It would dress out to a 600-pound carcass. Fat, bone and waste would trim it another 162, leaving 438 pounds of edible beef.

It seems only yesterday that Althea Gibson was making tennis history as a top player. But this month Althea, now director of the Pepsi-Cola mobile tennis program, will be 46.

Betting on the outcome of a battle between two fighting fish is to the Siamese what horse race betting is to Americans. Spectators may make side bets of up to $150, according to the National Geographic Society. That is about half a year's wage for an unskilled Siamese laborer.

If you work for a large firm, you may have to go where it wants to put you. U.S. business concerns transfer about 2½ million employees — and in most cases their families, too — from one city to another each year.

Planning on going camping on your vacation? Some 40 million-plus Americans — about one in five — will during 1973, either because they want to save money or just dote on the Great Outdoors.

Quotable notables: "If my theory of relativity is proven successful," Albert Einstein once predicted, "Germany will claim me as a German and France will declare that I am a citizen of the world. If my theory should prove to be untrue, then France will say that I am a German, and Germany will say that I am a Jew."

Teachers paid better: Remember when teachers were traditionally as underpaid as ministers? Well, they're better off now. Between 1960 and 1972 the annual salaries of U.S. public school teachers nearly doubled, rising from $5,174 to $10,174.

Worth remembering: "Juvenile delinquency sometimes is the result of parents trying to raise their children without starting at the bottom."

Folklore: Birds are supposed to select their mates on St. Valentine's Day. Animals are most susceptible to being bewitched on the first day of May. Bread baked on Good Friday has special power to cure ailments.

U.S. Cutback Of Air Power To Be Slow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will take its time reducing massive American air power in Southeast Asia after all bombing in Cambodia ends at midnight Tuesday.

Some U.S. war planes, including B52 heavy bombers, will remain in Thailand indefinitely as a deterrent to possible new North Vietnamese offensive thrusts.

Pentagon officials say a continued American military presence in Thailand is justified under the nearly two-decade-old Southeast Asia Treaty.

According to present planning, officials say, the United States will start pulling out some of its 660 planes and 45,000 American servicemen about a month after the bombing halt.

About 430 of these planes are bombers. The rest include reconnaissance and electronic warfare craft, tankers, transports and helicopters.

The unwinding process will extend over a period of many months, with most of the planes and men returning to the United States and some to other bases in the Pacific area.

Plan To Move Mosaic Murals

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A moving company spokesman has announced that Cincinnati's Union Terminal's mosaic murals will be moved to Greater Cincinnati Airport beginning this week.

Jim Johnson, vice-president of the George Detzel Co., said the murals will be removed through a large hole cut in the terminal's concourse floor.

The murals, which weigh five tons each, depict manufacturing and industrial scenes in Cincinnati's history.

Ohio's Oldest City Visited

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by Columbus Auto Club Travel Department for The Herald.

The AAA tour this week is a two-state adventure with a tour of Ohio's oldest city, Marietta, and a trip across the Ohio River to Parkersburg, West Virginia.

Sponsored by the Ohio Company, Marietta was founded in 1788 by 49 pioneers led by Rufus Putnam. The settlement drew its name from Queen Marie Antoinette, in recognition of French aid to the colonies during the American Revolutionary War.

The Ohio River town also became the first center of government of the Northwest Territory with Arthur St. Clair as governor.

Campus Martius State Memorial Museum was the first home of Putnam and was originally a square of fortified residences where settlers took refuge against Indian attacks. The museum, administered by The Ohio Historical Society, now has an imposing collection of Putnam and other pioneer relics, as well as replicas of famous river boats. Behind the museum and of interest to the visitor is a restoration of The Ohio Company. An eye-catcher is the W.P. Snyder, Jr., one of the last stern-wheelers to travel the Ohio River, now moored near the junction of the Ohio and Muskingum rivers and is open to visitors.

Mound Cemetery is a burial ground for Indians and pioneers and contains an example of prehistoric Mound builders' art in the famed "Conus."

Parkersburg is a city of diversified industry and has visible reminders of pioneer days. The Centennial Cabin and Museum was built in 1804 and contains relics and documents of early days in this area.

One mile below Parkersburg in the Ohio River is Blennerhassett Island. It was here in 1798 that Harman Blennerhassett, a wealthy English immigrant, built the most palatial home west of the Alleghenies. It also was here that Aaron Burr is said to have plotted a conspiracy for establishing an empire in the Southwest Territory.

Your AAA Club suggests this routing to today's tour area: From Circleville, go northeast on U.S. 22 to U.S. 33; southeast on U.S. 33 to U.S. 50; southeast on U.S. 50 to State 7; northeast on State 7 to the tour area.

Vandalism Charge Brings Probation

Damaging shopping carts at a Lancaster Pike center business brought three years' probation for one local boy appearing in Juvenile Court recently.

The youth, 15, was found guilty of malicious destruction of property for the July 17 incident. He was restricted from entering the store unless in the company of his parents.

For breaking into a number of cars on the Eshelman Grain Co. lot and an auto owned by Delvin Smith, S. Pickaway St., a Route 2, Laurelville, boy was sent to the Ohio Youth Commission. The youth was also accused of stealing a pack of cigarettes from the Smith auto.

Robert E. Loy 111 was found guilty of three related traffic charges as a result of a July 20 accident he was involved in at N. Court and Park Sts.

Loy received suspended $10 fine for driving without a license, the same for leaving the scene of an accident and had $40 of a $50 fine suspended for a reckless operation charge. In addition, he will not be permitted to apply for an operator's license for six months.

Temporary placement with the Pickaway County Children's Service Board was ordered for a Route 3, Circleville boy found to be neglected and a school truancy problem.

The child's mother was handed a suspended $50 fine for contributing to her son's neglect.

Campaign Techniques Seminar Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Republican State Committee will sponsor a four-day seminar beginning Thursday on campaign techniques for the municipal elections.

State Chairman Kent McGough said the program at Ohio State University is to train candidates and managers for this fall's municipal campaigns.

Firm Reports Income

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Second quarter operating income of $7.57 million, or 71 cents a share, has been reported by National General Corp., the Los Angeles-based insurance, book publishing and film distribution firm.

New ADC Formula Computed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Controlling Board approved a new computing formula Monday that will increase Aid to Dependent Children benefits an average of $15 a month.

Welfare Director Charles Bates said the new Uniform Allowance would save taxpayers' money by reducing department errors and rewarding recipients for better money management.

The request, approved 5-2, will become effective Sept. 1. It will be financed with $633,072,800 ($303,893,000 of it state money) in the 1974-75 biennium appropriations. Benefits will start in October.

State Sens. Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, and Max H. Dennis, R-10 Wilmington, voted against the request. Cook accused the department of giving misleading figures to legislators in order to get their appropriations.

Bates was to hold a news conference Tuesday to explain the new funding formula.

The welfare director denied Cook's allegation, saying that when the budget request was presented, the April caseload was unknown.

Under the Uniform Allowance, Bates said all families of four would receive up to $201 per month for food, clothing, shelter and utilities.

The new formula will consist of subtracting outside income from a standard established solely upon the size of a family.

Although Bates said the increase would vary because of family sizes, he predicted it at $15 per month. The Legislative Service Commission, the research arm of the legislature, said it may be $23 a month.

The controlling board also gave the Department of Highway Safety permission to waive competitive bidding on a contract with an Illinois supplier for production of 1974 reflectorized license plates for $714,000.

OhioMay Get $39 Million For Transit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio could receive $39 million this year to help solve mass transportation problems in the state's big cities.

State Transportation Director J. Phillip Richley said Monday Ohio expects a total of $168.8 million this fiscal year from the Federal Highway Act of 1973. President Nixon signed the $22.9 billion appropriation measure Monday.

The three-year act "has opened the door for mass transit and provided local options for using money, but has not closed the door on highways," Richley said.

He said $39 million of Ohio's share could be earmarked for easing transportation problems in Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Youngstown, Dayton, Akron and Canton.

Local funding proposals will be needed to obtain the federal money, Richley said.

"We need the urban areas working hard on their local transportation problems. If they don't get the money, it won't be because it wasn't available."

Richley said the local areas will decide whether the funds are spent on mass transit or highways.

If I spent on mass transit, the money could go to acquire failing, privately owned transportation lines or to build terminals or other facilities, the director said.

He said the bill also contains money for rural public transportation programs.

MR. AND MRS. CARL T. MURDOCK JR.

Cave-Murdock Vows Exchanged In Lancaster Church Of Christ

The Church of Christ, Granville Road, Lancaster was the setting for the July 14th wedding of Miss Joy Lou Cave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Cave of Stoutsville, and Carl Truman Murdock Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Murdock of Chesapeake. Mr. Garnet Baker officiated the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. Beauty vases of white gladioli and pink pompons and seven branch candelabra accented the front of the church. Mr. Paul Gardner lighted the candles prior to the ceremony.

A half-hour of music preceding the ceremony was presented by Mr. Garland Snyder, soloist, and background music was by an acappella chorus.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white silk organza fashioned with jeweled chantilly lace trim. The A-line gown featured a victorian neckline, empire waistline with miniature buttons adorning the back of the bodice, and long full bishop sleeves with lace cuffs. Panels of lace extended from the shoulders to the hemline and the sweeping detachable train, with lace panels, fell from a self-bow at center back.

The bride's matching chapel length mantilla which flowed softly beyond the train, was caught to a Camelot cap. She carried a colonial arrangement of pink Sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, stephanotis with Baker fern and pink and white streamers. She wore a gold locket, a gift of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Julian of Circleville, sister of the bride. She wore a floor length gown of pink and white dotted swiss with empire lace bodice defined with a pink satin ribbon. A white picture hat with pink streamers completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink miniature carnations and white daisy mums with pink streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Ferris, Proctorville, sister of the

Arledge-Liston Plans Completed

Plans have been completed for the open church wedding of Miss Penny Sue Arledge and Brent Boggs Liston.

The ceremony will take place 7:30 p.m. Aug. 18 in Trinity Lutheran Church, 135 E. Mound St., Circleville.

WAITING ROAST—The huge round of beef roasted over coals and basted with Polynesian sauce waits for the carvers as members of Philip's Flock and guests chat while other gourmet delights are placed on the table ready for the feast. The second annual Hawaiian party was attended by 73 members and guests.

Philip's Flock Entertains With Hawaiian Dinner Party

Colored lanterns, spotlights and patio torches illuminated the path from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., Route 1, Williamsport to the bathhouse beside the swimming pool for a Hawaiian party recently for members and friends of Philip's Flock.

Members of the organization of St. Philip's Episcopal Church and their guests dined on roast beef basted with a Polynesian marinade along with other food in keeping with the theme at tables on the lawn by the bathhouse. Lighted candles bobbed in the pool and the fern and flowers decorated tables were centered with flower candles floating in flower encircled brandy snifters.

Lanterns, tropical fish and large paper flowers decorated the bathhouse where punch was served preceding the dinner. As guests crossed the arched bridge they were presented with leis for the men and flowers for the women to wear in their hair. Swimming occupied the greater part of the evening, along with guitar music and singing.

Attending the gala event were, the Rev. and Mrs. David Allardice, Mr. and Mrs. James Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Call and granddaughter, Kim Rinveller of Mt. Pelier; Mr. and Mrs. James Capper, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowsher, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Haradon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howell and guests, Mrs. Cynthia Vince and Miss Sheila Vince of England.

Farmer-Consumer Peace Talks Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of a division of a major holding company is calling for peace talks between America's embattled farmers and angry consumers.

Joseph P. Sullivan, president of Estech Inc., said: "Finding a common meeting ground of shared needs and goals is the only way the communications gap can be bridged. In a nation with a long tradition of problem-solving, this task is most definitely not insurmountable."

Estech is a chemicals and industrial products division of Esmark Inc., of Chicago, whose other divisions include Swift & Co., Vickers Energy Corp. and GSI Inc.

Sullivan deplored "a growing polarity between food producers and shoppers" and said that fear and a lack of understanding on both sides are the causes of the friction.

"News of another meat boycott or demands that a lid be put on fresh produce sends chills up the farmer's spine. He is in doubt also to whether to grow more or less, when he should market. And his farm, his very livelihood, is at stake," he said.

Meanwhile, he said, "the housewife hears of rising prices and shortages and wonders how she'll be able to continue to provide a nutritious diet for her family. The farmer is a likely target for her fear, because she doesn't know him or understand him."

"The most important thing for farmers and urbanites to learn is that their goals are very similar, even if their lives are very different.

"The urban or suburban housewives should be aware that the farmer has to put food on his table, too, and it's not free. At the same time, farmers should know that the person who works in an office or factory is having trouble making ends meet, too."

He called for a program — he did not say who might operate it — to inform the nonfarm public of the farmers' risks and the farmers of the nonfarm families' problems "in the daily grind of trying to feed their families" with food prices their highest in two decades.

Ruckelshaus Sees Curbs At Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — William D. Ruckelshaus, nominated to be deputy attorney general, says Watergate has shown the danger of "free play" between the White House and Justice Department.

"A mere call by somebody from the White House to a Justice Department attorney carries with it a good deal of impact," said Ruckelshaus in an interview.

"I think sometimes people in the White House don't realize that," he said. "Maybe those at the top do, and they may know exactly what they are doing."

Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson already has moved to end the informality of contacts between White House and department officials on policy matters, Ruckelshaus said.

Richardson has said that all but minor contacts from the White House and others outside the department must now come through the attorney general's office. As deputy attorney general, Ruckelshaus would be in charge of most department dealings with the White House.

"I think there's a much greater awareness between the White House and the Justice Department now of some of the pitfalls involved in a sort of free play between the Justice Department and the White House," said Ruckelshaus.

HORSEBURGERS IN HOLYOKE—Chuck Rae who runs Doug's Cafe in Holyoke, Mass., has come up with a solution to the beef shortage—horseburgers and horse steaks. He says business is so good he may have to put on more help to take care of the demand.

Highway Bill Gets Nixon Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed a compromise $22.9 billion highway bill today, hailing it as a significant move to ease urban congestion by opening the Highway Trust Fund for mass transit improvements.

In a statement released as he signed the measure in a White House ceremony, Nixon said the legislation "reflects a spirit of constructive cooperation" between Congress and the administration.

The three-year bill authorizes $2.9 billion more than requested by Nixon, but is $5 billion below the spending level voted by the House.

and localities "the flexibility they need to set their own transportation priorities."

"The law will enable them at last to relieve congestion and pollution problems by developing more balanced transportation systems where that is appropriate rather than locking them into further highway expenditure which can sometimes make such problems even worse," Nixon said.

Nixon signed the bill after returning from Camp David, where he worked on a public response to the Watergate scandal.

Armco Steel Asks Increase

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) —Armco Steel Corp. today announced it has applied to the Cost of Living Council for a 5 per cent increase for sheet steel.

Sheet steel is used primarily in the manufacture of automobiles and appliances.

Armco said the increases are the same sought June 17 but disallowed by the Council in compliance with Phase IV of President Nixon's economic controls.

Armco said it asked for the increases to become effective 30 days after Sept. 12 in compliance with the required 30-day waiting period under federal regulations.

An Armco spokesman said the increases do not reflect the dollar for dollar increases in costs incurred by the company.

If applied on an industrywide basis, the spokesman said, as measured by 1972 shipments, it is estimated the increase would be two per cent of sales revenue.

Armco said there have been no price increases in the past 19 months for sheet steel in spite of employment increases of eight per cent in both August 1972 and August 1973.

There has also been a 50 per cent increase in the price of scrap iron and substantial increases in the prices of all other materials, fuels and services, the company said.

"It is obvious," the spokesman said, "that the flat-rolled segment of the steel industry has borne a disproportionate share of the burden of price stabilization and price relief is long overdue."

Bridge Deaths Accord Set

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The U.S. Steel Corp. and the J.E. Greiner Co. have agreed to pay $950,000 to survivors of 46 persons killed in the Dec. 15, 1967 collapse of the Silver Bridge linking Point Pleasant and Kanawha, Ohio.

The settlement was signed by U.S. District Court Judge Frank A. Kaufman in Baltimore and filed in federal court here.

U.S. Steel, which provided steel for construction of the span, will pay $750,000 and the Greiner firm, which helped design the bridge, will pay $200,000. Allocation of damage payments will be determined at a later date.

The collapse of the Ohio River bridge during the evening rush hour was blamed by federal investigators on a broken suspension bar.

The settlement does not affect claims against other agencies, including those against the federal government or those pending in the West Virginia Court of Claims.

Storminess Diminishes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms that dumped heavy rain on parts of the Midwest and swept sections of the West with high winds diminished today leaving most of the nation under fair skies.

Storms erupted in Texas and over the Rockies into eastern Nevada throughout Monday. Others soaked portions of the Midwest from Missouri to Virginia and south to Alabama.

Two to 3 inches of rain swamped parts of the St. Louis metropolitan area and caused flash flooding late Monday. A flash-flood watch also was issued for east-central Illinois early today.

During Monday's storms in eastern Nevada, wind gusts reached 67 miles per hour at Missoula, Mont., and 62 m.p.h. at Havre, Mont.

Say Woodson No Longer Top Coach

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — What Warren Woodson wins on the football field, record-keepers for the NCAA take away with a pencil.

Woodson, head football coach and athletic director at small Trinity University here, is no longer the "winningest active coach" in college football, as the school's past sports brochures have been able to claim.

The National Collegiate Sports Service, which keeps records for the NCAA, has told Woodson 52 victories of his career will not be counted in his lifetime college total because they were gained at a junior college.

Including the games won at Texarkana, Tex., Junior College during the 1927-34 seasons, Woodson's lifetime record stands at 247 victories. Minus the Texarkana wins, he has 195 lifetime victories.

The new titleholder for winningest active college coach apparently is Paul "Bear" Bryant of the University of Alabama with 220 victories, says a Trinity publicist.

Woodson says, "I realize the NCAA is basically a big university organization and they must cater to the big universities' desires."

"But are they going to throw out the football games won by Glenn 'Pop' Warner while he was coaching at Carlisle Institute? Carlisle was a high school for Indians and they had no rules to govern athletic competition."

Minor All-Stars Win At Hilliard

Circleville's Little League Minor All-Stars edged Clinton Estates, 7-6, in the opening round of the Hilliard tournament Monday.

The win in the double elimination tourney sends the Circleville Stars against Shadywood Red 8 p.m. Thursday at Hilliard.

Jeff Bloomfield and Jack Heeter shared mound duties for Circleville. They gave up four hits, eight walks and struckout seven, Bill Kidd was on the hill for Clinton. He allowed nine hits, walked six and fanned eight.

Circleville trailed 6-5 going into the bottom of the sixth but rallied to push two markers across the plate for the victory.

Bloomfield paced the Circleville attack with a double and single, Rod Bumgarner rapped two singles, Bob Steele slammed a double while Brian Davis, Tim Woods, Larry Pennington and Bob Brown each added a single.

Protection For Aaron Requested By Club

ATLANTA (AP) — Henry Aaron will be well protected as he travels on the road with the Atlanta Braves in National League cities.

"It's nothing major. It's rather routine, in fact," said Braves Vice President Dick Cecil Monday, confirming that extra police protection had been requested for Aaron out of town.

Detroit Lions Edge Kansas City For 17-16 Win

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City's Jan Stenerud had his first extra point in seven years blocked and as a result the Detroit Lions edged the Chiefs 17-16 in a National Football League preseason game Monday night.

"I don't know what happened," Stenerud said of the play by Lem Barney, who broke through the left side and blocked the kick with 1:18 left.

Barney knew what happened. "It was just a basic rush," said the seven-year corner back from Jackson State. "Mike Weger and I shot in simultaneously."

Kansas City Coach Hank Stram called it "a ridiculous way to lose." Detroit Coach Don McCafferty said it "was a great effort on the part of the extra point team. We could have let up and figured it was a tie game."

The attempt capped an 82-yard scoring drive put together by Len Dawson the first time he took the Kansas City quarterback helm this season.

Dawson started his 17th professional campaign when he entered the contest with 6:32 left and the Chiefs down 17-10. In 18 plays he hit on seven of 13 passes for 57 yards. His 10-yard scoring toss to Elmo Wright came on fourth down.

Greg Landry took over the Detroit quarterback role in the second half and led the Lions to victory.

Elsewhere in the NFL, three Oakland players emerged from the Raiders' 27-26 victory Saturday over Dallas with injuries. Offensive tackle Bob Brown suffered a broken hand, linebacker Joe Carroll sustained a broken finger and defensive tackle Art Thoms strained a knee.

"We'll know more later about using any of them Saturday," said Oakland Coach John Madden, looking ahead to the Raiders' upcoming game with Los Angeles.

Linebacker John Douglas of New York suffered a pulled hamstring muscle during the Giants 13-7 triumph over New England Saturday and is expected to miss the next two games.

Douglas will be replaced by converted defensive end Henry Reed, who missed most of last season with a blood infection.

The Atlanta Falcons trimmed running backs Henry Brandon and Ray Clarke from their roster and signed veteran running back Eddie Ray. Ray showed up in camp 21 days late and Coach Norm Van Brocklin said the former Louisiana State player would be fined at the rate of $100 per day.

Houston linebacker Garland Boyette, who retired from playing last season and joined the coaching staff, is back in uniform.

Coach Bill Peterson said Boyette, who has been with Houston since 1966, agreed to play again to bolster the Oilers' middle linebacker position.

Pittsburgh plays at Philadelphia Thursday and Washington is at Buffalo Friday in this week's NFL schedule.

Soap Box Derby Field Of 139 Set

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Nine youngsters will be winners of a total of $30,000 in scholarships by week's end in 36th running of the All-American Soap Box Derby.

The field totals 139, including local-level champions, from Germany, Venezuela and Canada. Derby officials, short on funds after General Motors Corp.'s Chevrolet Division broke off its sponsorship last year, had set a limit of 140. There were about 250 entrants last year.

Today marks the opening of Derby Week, but festivities don't begin till Wednesday with official arrivals of the various champions. Heat drawings are due Wednesday night. Trial runs begin Thursday.

Friday morning the hopefuls are to be honored by a parade, followed by an open house, display of the racers and a party that night.

The race begins at 1 p.m. Saturday after opening ceremonies and the traditional Marathon Oil Can Race for celebrities.

On tap are pro basketball star Jerry Lucas, astronaut James Lovell and comedian Martie Allen.

In the Derby itself, first prize includes a $7,500 scholarship from Chevrolet, which still underwrites the school grants.

Win At Scioto Downs

Kimmie Almahurst, a 2-year-old daughter of Bret Hanover, owned by T. D. Van Camp of Circleville, won the second race at Scioto Downs Monday.

It was her sixth start of the season and her first win. Trained by J. Snyder, she paced the mile in 2:06 3-5 with Michael Zeller in the sulky. She returned $5.40, $3.40 and $3.40 at the mutual windows.

Ring Easy, a 4-year-old pacing mare owned, trained and driven by Jim Arledge of Circleville won the sixth race. Time of the mile was 2:08. The mutual payoff was $25.20, $13.20 and $5.80.

to. It's not that the Pittsburgh Pirates' slugger has anything against TV. It's just that Stargell doesn't like the thought of watching other little men in knickers, shirts and caps playing on his screen for big money.

"Last year we had the best record in baseball and ended up watching the World Series at home," Stargell said after smacking his 34th homer and scoring another run in the Pirates nationally televised 3-2 squeaker over the Reds. "This year our record isn't so good, but maybe we'll be there."

Anderson is more certain. "The Pirates will be there when it's all over," he said.

For the record, the Pirates have not been playing as if they wanted to extend their season beyond the regular schedule. But neither has the rest of the division, which is in jeopardy of having no teams with records on the happy side of .500.

St. Louis is the only club in the National League East with its head above water—61-58—but is sinking fast. The Cardinals' eighth straight loss left the Pirates and their 57-58 record just two games back.

Monday night's victory was a step in that direction as they cooled off a hot Cincinnati club that had won five straight.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Houston Astros shut out the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0; the San Diego Padres nipped the New York Mets 3-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers stopped the Montreal Expos 8-5.

Astros 4, Cardinals 0
The St. Louis Cardinals could certainly make a valid case for discrimination as they were handed their eighth straight loss and fourth in a row to lefthanded pitchers.

This one was a 4-0 defeat at the left hand of Dave Roberts and the Houston Astros, lowering the Cardinals' record against southpaws to 18-25.

Jim Wynn's homer and Lee May's run-scoring double backed Roberts' five-hit pitching.

Padres 3, Mets 2
Pitcher Jerry Koosman scored a run in the ninth to snap a tie but gave back that run and another in the bottom of the ninth as San Diego rallied for a 3-2 victory over New York.

Dodgers 8, Expos 5
Willie Crawford homered and doubled and drove in four runs to lead Los Angeles to an 8-5 victory over the Expos.

The victory for Claude Osteen, 14-5, enabled the Dodgers to increase their lead in the National League's Western Division to 2½ games over Cincinnati while Montreal remained in third place—three games behind the Eastern Division-leading Cardinals.

Brown Finds Backfield Formula

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Bengals' football coach Paul Brown said Monday he thinks he has found the right backfield formula in Doug Dressler and Charles "Booby" Clark. In Saturday's 45-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, the Cincinnati mentor switched Dressler to halfback and inserted Clark, a rookie, at fullback. He then used veteran halfback Essex Johnson to spot the two.

Brown said he feels the move will make a difference in the Bengal attack. "By using Doug and Charles as starters, that enables us to bring Essex in later on so we can utilize his exceptional speed," Brown said.

Brown said Dressler's good hands as a fullback impresses him. "He's a real armful for any tackler and I think he's done real well since he was a linebacker and tight end in college," Brown said.

Brown said he was impressed with quarterback Ken Anderson's direction of the team Saturday night. He said the third-year signal-caller from Augustana College will get the start again Sunday against the Bengals' arch rivals, The Cleveland Browns.

Against the Eagles Anderson completed 11 of 12 passes for 143 yards and one touchdown.

Brown said he expects defensive end Sherman White, who is recovering from knee surgery, to be ready for action Sunday against the Browns in Columbus. Safety Tom Casanova, a NFL All-Rookie last year, has reported to camp and will be ready for action Sunday, Brown said.

Kidron Merchants Defeat Greenfield

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Kidron Merchants' Cordell Boss struck out 10 and pitched a seven-hitter Monday to advance the Merchants to the championship game in the Ohio Fast Pitch Softball competition.

Kidron defeated Greenfield Penn Trucking 5-3 in the winners bracket of the tournament.

The Merchants will meet the winner of the Columbus Ramada Inn-Greenfield game to be played Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. The championship game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Queen Finesse Wins Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Queen Finesse won the featured eighth race Monday night at Scioto Downs in 2:07 2-5.

The winner paid $4.20, $3 and $2.80. Royal Jackson paid $6.60 and $3.60 and Foresees Franell paid $3.80 to show.

The 9-1 nightly double combination paid $36.80 and the ninth race quinnella 1-2 sequence paid $40.80.

The crowd of 4,304 wagered $209,600.

Dick Freeman Winner Of Tri-County Race

WEST CHESTER, Ohio (AP) — Dick Freeman and Don Wilbur of West Carrollton, Ohio, finished one-two in Saturday night's 30-lap feature for modified stock cars at Tri-County Speedway.

Freeman edged past Wilbur in the final lap to cop the $1,000 first-prize with his 1966 Comet. Wilbur, in a 1972 Monte Carlo, had held the lead since the eighth lap.

Ron Miller, Cincinnati, in a 1973 Camaro finished third and Jim Cushman of Columbus in a 1972 Chevelle was fourth.

Limber Legs Wins Feature At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Limber Legs finished fast to win Monday night's featured ninth race at Latonia by a neck.

The horse paid $3.60, $2.60 and $2.20 and ran the mile in 2:04 2-5 seconds. Gee Heels returned $3.60 and $2.20. Sovereign Scotch showed at $2.40.

A 1-4, 4-6 combination in the Big Perfecta on Delighted, Speedy Indian, C P Dale and Penny Knight returned $1,262.40.

aerodynamicist and a specialist in the field of turbulence.

He never did a controlled study of pitched balls, but Corrsin is a baseball fan and has been quoted widely on why knuckleballs and spitters do what they do.

During his explanation, Corrsin throws out scientific terms like Magnus force, Venturi effect and Bernoulli's equation, among others.

He'll never be a Hank Aaron, but this is what Corrsin sees from the batter's box:

When a baseball goes through air, it separates the opposing flow of air and creates a mass of mixed air in its wake, Corrsin said.

A normally spinning fast ball, thrown overhand, follows a straight path because of the top and bottom air pressures, said Corrsin. The spin keeps the wake from being irregular enough to change the path.

A curve ball is different. Corrsin said spinning the ball with a forward motion makes the airflow around it unequal. That makes the ball curve, he said, despite the pundits who have over the years tried to prove a baseball doesn't curve.

The less the ball spins, the more movement the ball will have because the main force is coming from the irregular airflow behind it.

Spitballs, knuckleballs, greaseballs, fork balls, palm balls all have little or no spin. A good one appears to jerk through the air. "Any moist substance permits the ball to slip out of the pitcher's fingers with very little spin," said Corrsin. He pointed out that the substance on the ball during its flight has no effect on the ball's behavior. Try telling that to a batter.

Smith And Funseth Lead Tournaments

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Todd Smith of Charlotte, N.C., and pro Rod Funseth held one-stroke leads in the amateur and professional classes of the Insurance Youth Golf Classic today.

The tournament concludes late today with a final 18-hole round at the Westfield Country Club course near Akron.

Orioles Thump Texas Rangers, 7-4

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

While the rest of the world puzzles over the tantalizingly tight American League East Division race, Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver has the dilemma all doped out.

"We've got the best defensive club in the division and the best pitching," reasoned Weaver after the Orioles had thumped Texas 7-4 Monday night.

"Now we're starting to hit, and the club with the hot bat will take it."

That bit of information should delight Detroit skipper Billy Martin,

Chip Myers Hopes For Long Passes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Wide receiver Chip Myers, who caught 57 passes in 1972 for the Cincinnati Bengals, wants to get away from the crowd.

Myers was the second leading receiver in the American Football Conference of the National Football League last year and played in the Pro Bowl.

Coach Paul Brown, in Myers' sixth pro season here, calls the receiver a man with good hands "with the ability to catch in a crowd."

This year, hopes Myers, his receptions won't be confined to the sidelines on down and out patterns and that he'll get into long passes.

Myers, who caught two passes for 30 yards Saturday in Cincinnati's 45-21 rout of the Philadelphia Eagles, said the Bengals "will surprise a lot of people with long passes this year."

He explained that quarterbacks Ken Anderson and Virgil Carter, "contrary to what a lot of people have been saying, can throw the long pass."

He said offensive improvements will enable Cincinnati to open up their passing game this year.

"This year we're establishing our flanker game. We have some real fast flankers this year. We used to have a little trouble there.

"Anyway, with the flankers I think I'll lose a lot of double coverage and be in more one-on-one situations with the whose Tigers mauled Minnesota for 16 hits and a 9-3 romp. If hot bats decide this race, then wrap it up for the Tigers, who've won four straight games and scored 26 runs over that stretch.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Oakland trimmed Boston 3-1, New York shut out California 6-0 and Chicago downed Milwaukee 5-2. The other teams were not scheduled.

The Orioles got homers from Merv Rettenmund and Don Baylor to whip the Rangers. Baylor had four hits and figures the Orioles can hit better than defenders. It's just a matter of calling the plays."

Myers, 6-foot-5½, 240 pounds, "would like to catch 40 or 50 passes."

"But, as far as setting any goals like being the top receiver in the league, I'm more interested in catching passes that will help the team ... maybe win us the championship."

NBC Tourney Features Sluggers

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Slugging figured in all three games Monday in the National Baseball Congress tournament at Wichita.

Kankakee, Ill., took a 9-7 lead into the eighth inning against Huntsville, Ala., but saw it crumble as the Alabama team scored six runs in the eighth to win, 13-9. The six runs scored on a combination of three hits and two errors.

Wichita, Kan., hammered Eleanor, W. Va., 10-3, knocking out starter Tommy Carr in the fifth inning. Denny Spitzer, the winning pitcher, had three of Wichita's 11 hits.

Dodge City, Kan., dumped Lexington, Ky., 8-1, pounding out 11 hits against three Kentucky pitchers. Jerry Lasponara had a home run and two runs batted in. Rick Simpson pitched a two-hitter for Dodge City.

Today's schedule has Framingham, Mass., meeting Kankakee, Ill.; Wichita, Kan., vs. Worthington, Ohio; San Juan, P.R., vs. New London, Conn., and Eleanor, W. Va., vs. Lexington, Ky.

University Games Preparations Made

MOSCOW (AP) — Some 4,500 athletes from 76 countries made final training preparations today for the World University Games while their Russian hosts struggled with airtight security and a series of last-minute snarls.

Some American athletes who had been virtually trapped in the massive Moscow State University building where the competitors were quartered got their credentials straightened out and were allowed to leave the compound.

Petty Road Victor In River Downs Race

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Petty Road held on in the stretch to win by a neck in Monday's $2,600 feature eighth race at River Downs.

The horse ran the six furlongs in 1:13 3-5.

Petty Road returned $34.80, $12.60 and $6.80. Little Music paid $5.40 and $4.00. Mirrored Beauty showed at $3.20.

Jockey Ron Turcotte thinks Riva Ridge has a longer stride than Secretariat. He won the Kentucky Derby riding both colts.

the rest of the division thinks they can hit.

"I hope the other teams keep thinking we can't hit the ball," said Baylor. "I guarantee you we're hitting it now."

All the first place Tigers can do is win. Detroit ran its post All Star Game record to 17-4 by beating Minnesota to maintain its 1½-game lead over the Orioles.

Tigers 9, Twins 3

Gates Brown, Aurelio Rodriguez and Mickey Stanley contributed three hits apiece and Detroit roared from behind to overtake Minnesota 9-3. The Twins held a 2-1 lead until the seventh and then Bill Freehan's two-out, two-run single gave the Tigers the lead.

Then John Hiller came out of the bullpen to nail down the victory, earning his 28th save of the season.

Steve Brye homered for the Twins.

A's 3, Red Sox 1

Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odom, pitching for the first time since Aug. 2, won his first game in six weeks, beating Boston 3-1 with late relief help from Rollie Fingers. Odom, 3-9, allowed just five hits and Fingers struck out four of the six batters he faced as Oakland moved one-half game behind idle first place Kansas City in the AL West.

Yankees 6, Angels 0

Switch-hitting Roy White accomplished the rare feat of hitting a home run from each side of the plate in the same game, leading New York to its 6-0 victory over California.

White connected from the right side in the first inning and then from the left side in the second, driving in three Yankee runs. Rookie George Medich pitched a five-hitter.

White Sox 5, Brewers 2

Carlos May drove in three runs with a homer and a single, helping Chicago defeat Milwaukee 5-2.

Terry Forster, normally a reliever, went all the way for the victory, in only his fifth major league start.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when you have the chance to think first and then talk with vital associates about how you can best blend your talents to make a plan of action for the future that requires a considerable amount of engineering ability and excellent judgment. Be alert.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) You can get into all the secret planning necessary so your future can be placed on a more constructive footing. Plan your time more intelligently. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You want to be with cherished pals so you can work out a more intelligent plan of action for the future and this is wise in a m. Later get into the right social group for the kind of entertainment you like.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your prestige can soar by the action you take today of a constructive and wise nature. Show you are an A-1 citizen. You can make a fine impression on a bigwig who is vital to your welfare now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You want to get out with individuals you have just met and this could bring excellent results now. Listen to what a wise person has to suggest. Make sure you understand every detail.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can advance now by handling duties in a most efficient and intelligent way. Follow your intuition where loved one is concerned for excellent results. Avoid temper tantrums.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle that association matter in a wise and thoughtful manner for fine results. Get into outlets with others that can make mutual aims easier to reach. Think along very logical lines.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can easily start whatever you have promised to do and accomplish it with speed and efficiency. Show you appreciate co-workers and you get fine cooperation from them. Do something of a civic nature in p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can please those you like very much now, since you are at your charming best, and can have a good time as well. Your fine talents need expression now. Show you can top others easily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Pleasing kin is easy now since they need your goodwill and assistance. Make everything around the house efficient running and clean as a whistle. Don't forget to pay important bills.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have a fine chance to be with interesting individuals who can help pave the way to greater success. Get errands run, write letters, make phone calls. Keep busy and happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to have a greater income and can do so provided you use only proven systems instead of something unpredictable. Trust one who has financial knowledge. Avoid one who wants to take you off on some tangent or other.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make sure you pick out the right people with whom you have much rapport for the fun things you like to do. Take the treatments that will add much to present charm. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those people who almost reads minds of others and would do well in such fields as personnel work, a government appointment, police work and the like. Education should be slanted along such lines for the biggest success here. The field of business is good also, as well as interior decorating where the artistic talent can be brought into full play for the most charming effects. Teach early how to handle money properly. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — KNBC-TV used to hold the national record for television's longest weekday news show — two hours, from 5 to 7 p.m. But KMEX-TV now owns the title — its news show runs 8½ hours.

That's right, 8½ hours. It starts at 6:30 a.m. and ends at 3 p.m. Four anchormen keep things going, each doing two hours on the air in a visual version of all-news radio with live, film and videotape offerings.

Like KNBC, KMEX is in Los Angeles, a good television town where innovations seem to occur two or three years before New York gets wind of them and orders duplicates made.

KMEX, a UHF station whose viewing audience primarily is Mexican-American, began its all-news effort six weeks ago, according to Danny Villanueva, the station's vice president and general manager.

Prior to that, the station didn't go on the air until 3:30 p.m., he said. Villanueva said the marathon news program initially began with a heavy emphasis on stock market reports, aiming at the business community.

But Rene Anselmo, president of KMEX's parent company, the New York-based Spanish International Network, preferred more of a news approach. Changes were made a week after the show began, Villanueva said. He says it now has a magazine-type format, with 10 minutes of hard news each half hour as well as features

Cox Tells Why He Wants Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox has given the public his first detailed summary of what he hopes to learn about Watergate from tape recording of presidential conversations.

Cox included the summary in a 68 page argument filed Monday in federal court in support of his request for a court order compelling President Nixon to surrender the tapes.

Nixon refused to comply with a subpoena from Cox demanding the tapes of nine presidential conversations.

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica gave the White House until Friday to file any additional arguments and scheduled courtroom debate for Aug. 22.

The tapes demanded by Cox cover eight meetings and one telephone conversation between June 20, 1972 three days after the Watergate break-in, and April 15, 1973.

In his brief, Cox noted that on Sept. 15, 1972, after a federal grand jury had indicted seven men for their participation in the break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters, Nixon met with H.R. Haldeman, then his staff chief, and John W. Dean III, then his counsel.

Dean told the Senate Watergate committee the President congratulated him for doing a good job. Dean said he interpreted Nixon's remarks as evidence the President was aware of the cover-up.

Haldeman, who told the committee he had listened recently to the tape of the meeting, said there was discussion of the Watergate case, but denied Nixon congratulated Dean on his efforts to thwart the investigation.

If the tapes confirm Dean's version, said Cox, "it will tend to establish that a conspiracy to obstruct justice reached the highest level of government

"If Haldeman's innocuous version of the meeting can be sustained, it is because the meeting only involved an innocent discussion of political interests. The question of Dean's perjury would then arise."

Cox offered some comments on other tapes he seeks:

—Meeting of June 20, 1972, between the President and aides John D.

Ehrlichman and Haldeman. "The contemporary evidence of that meeting should show the extent of the knowledge of the illegal activity by the participants or any effort to conceal the truth from the respondent (Nixon)."

—Telephone call June 20, from former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, then director of the President's reelection campaign, to Nixon. "This apparently was the first direct contact after the break-in between respondent and Mitchell"

—Meeting of June 30, 1972, between Nixon, Mitchell and Haldeman. Mitchell has testified it concerned his impending resignation as campaign director. It "strains credulity to suppose that Watergate and how Watergate affected Mitchell and the campaign were not topics of conversation."

—Meeting of March 13, 1973, between Nixon, Dean and Haldeman. Dean told the committee that Nixon said he had approved executive clemency for E. Howard Hunt Jr. and that there would be no problem raising $1 million to buy the silence of the Watergate defendants.

—Two meetings on March 21, 1973. Participants included Nixon, Dean, Haldeman, Ehrlichman and Ronald L. Ziegler, presidential press secretary. Haldeman quoted Nixon as saying there would be no problem raising $1 million. He added that the President said it would not be right to pay the money.

—Meeting of March 22, 1973. Participants were Nixon, Dean, Ehrlichman, Haldeman and Mitchell. "This meeting was apparently concerned ... with political assessments ... and is likely to reveal the knowledge and motives of the participants."

—Meeting of April 15 between Nixon and Dean. The ousted White House counsel told the Senate committee the President told him he had only been joking in his reference to raising $1 million and that he had been foolish to discuss executive clemency with Charles W. Colson, former White House special counsel.

Guardman Tells Of KSU Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Ohio National Guardsman present at the 1970 Kent State University shootings says he witnessed a campus patrolman seize a gun from a photographer, then exclaim, "My God, it's been fired!"

The former guardsman, Michael Delaney, said he saw Terrence B. Norman turn over the .38-caliber revolver to the patrolman two or three minutes after a fusillade of bullets killed four students and wounded nine others.

Norman's presence and activities on the campus apparently will be part of the renewed Justice Department investigation of the shootings.

Whether Norman's gun was fired has become a key point of dispute.

Norman, who now works for the riot-trained special operations division of the District of Columbia police department, has refused comment. His attorney could not be reached in several attempts Monday night.

Delaney, who also works in Washington, said in an interview that he did not examine the gun himself but overheard the patrolman who took it from Norman say instantly that the weapon had been fired.

Although Delaney said he did not know the patrolman's name, the FBI has identified him as Harold Rice.

Delaney's account is similar to the report of a Little Rock, Ark., newsman who also was at Kent State. The newsman, Fred R. DeBrine, said he saw Norman turn over the gun and heard him say, "I had to do it. They were trying to kill me."

DeBrine also said the campus policeman handed the pistol to campus detective Thomas Kelley, who opened the chamber and exclaimed, "My God, he fired four shots. What the hell do we do now?"

Kelley has denied making the statement and declared last Tuesday, "The gun had not been fired."

DeBrine said Monday night that Delaney was present and had witnessed the encounter with Norman.

A former newsman, Delaney said he was at the time a public information officer for the guard and had been assigned to issue press credentials to newsmen covering the campus disturbances.

He said he reluctantly issued credentials to Norman after a university official told him Norman "had done some work for the FBI."

Delaney said the matter of the press credentials enabled him to recognize Norman at the encounter following the shootings.

Ohio Bell Rate Hike Still Fought

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. rang in a $98 million series of rate increases across Ohio today, although a Cleveland opponent of the hikes vowed to fight for a rollback.

The series of rate increases mean more expensive dialing for Ohioans in a host of areas— including monthly phone bills, direct-dial long distance, unlisted numbers, installation and operator-handled calls.

But Cleveland Councilman Dennis J. Kucinich, who filed as an intervenor in the original rate hearings, said he would carry his opposition to the federal courts if necessary to prevent the hikes.

Kucinich contends the new rates will be discriminatory since Clevelanders' phone bills will be hiked by about $1.40 a month for single line service while other metropolitan areas in the state will rise by about $1.15 to $1.20.

The Cleveland increase will bring single line phone service here to $9.25 a month, compared to $8 a month in Columbus, $7.80 in Dayton, Akron and Toledo, and $7.45 in Youngstown.

The differing rates are based on the number of the toll-free calls that can be made from a given phone, but Kucinich claims the system really means Clevelanders subsidize phone service elsewhere in the state.

Kucinich said he would ask the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio first for a rehearing but that— expecting denial of that request—his lawyers also were drafting an injunction request for the Ohio Supreme Court.

If that also were unsuccessful, Kucinich said he would "immediately appeal to the federal courts for an injunction on the basis that the PUCO decision deprives Cleveland area phone subscribers of equal protection of Ohio law."

The increase, cut from an original requested hike of $168 million, was approved by PUCO earlier, but the company said it did not receive final approval to implement the rates until Monday. They went into effect at midnight.

Ohio Bell Public Relations Vice President Joseph Reed said the rate increase was "less than we felt was needed," but he said the company agreed to the lower figure because we "desperately need more revenue immediately."

He said the company tried to place the burden of the increases wherever possible on persons asking for special services. The company now requires a 50-cent monthly charge for unlisted service, he said, because "costs of this special security, record keeping and operator handling keep rising."

Along the same line, Reed said, businesses will have to pay more for services such as extensions and installation than home phone customers.

Another feature of the new rates include scrapping of the old three-minute minimum charge for long distance calls within Ohio. The new minimum will be one minute, with set charges for each additional minute, the company said.

Ohioans calling long distance out of state, however, still will be charged on the three-minute minimum basis.

Nixon Land Dealings 'Clarified'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An apparent disagreement in statements from the White House and the man who helped President Nixon buy his California home was merely "a semantical problem," according to Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren.

Warren said Monday that no corporation was involved in the purchase of part of the Nixon estate at San Clemente, Calif.

He refused to give further details, however, saying that a complete statement is being prepared and will be released within a month.

A part of the Nixon estate was purchased by industrialist Robert Abplanalp, and last May the White House said 23 acres had been bought by an investment company formed by Abplanalp.

However, in a newspaper article Abplanalp said there was no corporation involved.

Warren explained that the difference was semantic, noting that Abplanalp used the terms "holding company" and "joint venture."

In refusing any further comment, Warren said he wants to avoid piecemeal stories which, he said, could lead to "misimpressions and distortions."

He complained that stories about government security and communications spending at Nixon's homes and offices in California and Florida have been misleading.

PUCO Eyes Natural Gas Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio is trying to determine how new customers should obtain natural gas in the event of a shortage.

Attorneys for about 75 natural gas companies from Ohio and the U. S. appeared at PUCO hearings which began Monday. The hearings are expected to run through the end of the week.

The commission reorganized allocation procedures a year ago to insure that residential needs were met first. The latest proposal before the PUCO suggests guideline for adding customers during a shortage.

The proposal would require companies to establish a uniform procedure for filing and recording applications for service. Each new customer would be given a number and served as more gas became available.

Columbia Gas of Ohio was expected to testify Tuesday.

In a separate hearing, the Ohio Public Interest Action Group asked the commission to order all electric companies in the state to stop advertising that encourages consumption of energy.

The commission already has prohibited gas companies from advertising to increase the demand for natural gas.

Ohio Power Co. Talks Requested

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Union officials have moved to end the six-week strike against Ohio Power Co. by asking the company for the first bargaining session since the walkout began.

Jim Dean, spokesman for Locals 981 and 696 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said Monday the union has not met with the company since about 500 employees struck plants in Newark, Zanesville and Steubenville July 1.

Ohio Power has been negotiating with members of the Utility Workers of America who are on strike at plants in Ohio and West Virginia.

Researcher Gets Grant For Leukemia Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio State University researcher will assist in the work toward a cure for leukemia, cancer of the blood.

Dr. Arthur Sagone Jr. has been awarded a five-year, $100,000 grant by the Leukemia Society of America, Inc.
